From the Chair of Trustees

So here we are again into our second lockdown of 2020. We, like many other charities, were hopeful we could return to some sort of normality by now but it looks like this will be our normal for the foreseeable future. Similar to the last lockdown however, I have challenged my fellow trustees and committee to ensure we continue to be innovative in both our support strategies to families and raising awareness of Neuroblastoma and funds to ensure we can continue to successfully enact our aims and objectives.

During November 20 we were meant to be conducting our Annual General Meeting (AGM), which would have given us a chance to transparently present our last years activities and passionately deliver our strategy for the remainder of 2020 and throughout 2021. However, we believe that it would not be appropriate to conduct the AGM in Nov and have rescheduled for Sat 30 Jan 21 at The Village Hotel, Wirral, this will also be available for everyone to view online. One thing that will still happen in Nov 20 is our monthly (online) Trustee and Committee meeting, and we pleased to announce we have had a number of volunteers from the public who will have their 'onboarding' training to ensure they have been adequate knowledge ad information of their roles.

I would like to welcome our newest ambassador, Nathaniel Wood onboard. 'Nath' is a well-established UFC competitor with a large following and a big heart and I look forward to working with him and all our other ambassadors to help raise the profile of Neuroblastoma, the charity and themselves. He joins our other amazing ambassadors; Andy Gatenby (Ex-Boxer/Actor), Chris Jenkinson (Pro Boxer), Danny Connor (Pro Boxer), Jordan Reynolds (Pro Boxer), Kevin Day (Artist), and Patrick Killian (Artist).

Since our last Newsletter I have been continuously humbled by the passion, drive and enthusiasm our supporters have shown towards The Amelia-Mae Foundation. A number of fundraisers, including Wayne Smith, George Hill and Lee Eaton have conducted football scratch cards raising hundreds of pounds each, thank you so much, guys.

I would also like to give personal thanks to these amazing small businesses, which have donated to us over the last few months - Multipave (Steve Earwicker), Katie's Kitchen (Katie Molyneux), Glamour Pups Boutique (Mel Anderson), and Fortruss Energy (Martin, Keith and Trevor). Without continued support like this, we would not be able to continue offering our families emotional and physical support. If anyone would like to get involved with fundraising for our charity, please make contact via the contact details below.

Children update

Alfie

We are so saddened to hear that that Alfie's latest scans show his tumour has increased in size.

This incredible boy has fought neuroblastoma for such a long time. We are with you Alfie, all the way!

George

George is back in hospital on his BEACON trial. He has been feeling poorly with temperatures & feeling sickly but is feeling a little better.

Fundraising News

A recent bike ride from Blackpool to York, organised by one of our official business partners, Fortress Energy, raised an amazing £15,000!

Our Supporters

During this month, 3 new businesses have come on board as supporters of the Amelia-Mae Foundation. A big shout out goes to:

- Katie's Kitchen
- Multipave
- Glamour Pups Boutique

We look forward to working alongside you to raise awareness.
